City of Uvalde Agrees to $2 Million Settlement

Josh Koskoff, an attorney representing the families of the 19 children and two teachers killed during the 2022 school shooting in Uvalde, Texas, announced at a press conference earlier today that the victims' families and the city of Uvalde have reached a \$2 million settlement agreement.

Koskoff stated the city agreed to pay $2 million, and the families agreed to not sue the city: "The city of Uvalde has agreed to pay its insurance of $2 million, which is all that there was." Koskoff stated the families would sue the State of Texas and federal government.
