Ukraine Attacks Russia With U.S. Missiles

Ukraine quickly acted on President Joe Biden's authorization to strike targets inside Russia with U.S.-manufactured missiles. Earlier today, Ukraine used Army Tactical Missile System (ATACMS) missiles to hit a Russian military facility in the Bryansk region, supposedly working with U.S. military personnel to carry out the strike. Reuters reported that Russia shot down five of the six missiles launched, with Ukraine and a U.S. official confirming an ATACMS missile struck an arms depot located in Karachev.

The first strike inside Russia with U.S. weapons occurs on the 1,000th day since the full-scale invasion of Ukraine began on February 24, 2022. NATO Secretary-General Mark Rutte stated NATO intends to continue its involvement in the war between Russia and Ukraine, posting on X:

In response to France's involvement in the war, Russian Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov stated France's involvement in the conflict has escalated to direct participation in combat, news agency TASS reported:

Macron has been one of the most vocal and biggest material supporters of the war, advocating for victory over Russia, for Russia's strategic defeat. Ukrainian servicemen are currently completing their training in France, an entire assault shock brigade is being prepared. In essence, they are directly participating in the combat.

In response to news of the attack, Lavrov stated from the G20 conference in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil:

Any modification of ATACMS cannot be used without American experts and instructors, including satellite data, including programming and targeting....

If long-range missiles are going to be applied from Ukraine into Russian territory, it will also mean that they are going to be operated by American experts — military experts — and we will be talking this as a qualitatively new phase of the Western war against Russia, and we will react accordingly.

Following the attack, former U.S. Army Lieutenant General Michael Flynn warned that U.S. involvement in Ukraine's strike is an escalation of war, and stated Biden's actions are directly provoking a irreversible response that could start World War III. Flynn posted on X:

BREAKING:

Last 24 hours Ukraine fired ATACMS into Russian territory—a clear escalation of war.

So what?

1. Harris should immediately invoke the 25th amendment and remove Biden—he's sleepwalking us into WWIII. Let's at least put the constitutional pressure on Harris because Joe's poor memory make him unaccountable (see Special Counsel Hur report).
2. The current House of Representatives must impeach Biden for endangering the United States. Hell, trump was impeached for losing the 2020 election.
3. Incoming U.S. officials must make contact with Putin to deescalate the situation (see my conversation w former RU ambassador Kislyak—different circumstance but same outcome—deescalation).
4. Trump administration, especially incoming AG Matt Gaetz need to make it clear that the identities of the deep state operatives pulling the strings of the presidency, urging Biden to act recklessly.
5. PRAY that we make it to 20 January—the voters spoke. Trump's mandate to end the killing and seek peace needs to be America's path.

I will provide more details later today. This is an urgent call to stop the madness before WWIII is irreversible.
