Bill Gates Ramping Up Efforts to Build a Dystopian Future

Bill Gates is shutting down his philanthropic foundation — but not for another 20 years, and not before he doubles down on his efforts to forge a dystopian future.

The software tycoon just announced that December 31, 2045 will be the last day the doors of the Gates Foundation will be open. But the real news isn't Gates' decision to shutter in two decades the main vehicle he has used to shape the world according to his warped vision. Over those next two decades, he will intensify his efforts to vaccinate the world with every new technological concoction he funds, help build a global surveillance and manipulation system, and weaponize the power of artificial intelligence (AI) in accordance with the globalist agenda.

Gates announced his recent decision Thursday on his personal website, GatesNotes. The New York Times published a promotion disguised as an interview to magnify the message the same day.

The software tycoon plans to double to at least $200 billion over the next 20 years the amount of money he's already poured into his causes. "I now believe we can achieve the foundation's goals on a shorter timeline, especially if we double down on key investments and provide more certainty to our partners," he said.

Making Up for USAID

In his Times interview, Gates specifically lamented the Trump administration's reduction of foreign aid, and implied his generosity was needed now more than ever. He complained about the government's drastic reductions to USAID, claiming they will lead to "millions of additional deaths of kids." (Emphasis in original.)

The government made those reductions after the Department of Government Efficiency (DOGE) verified that USAID was a U.S. intelligence front for culture and regime change all over the world.

So Gates also attacked Elon Musk, currently the richest person in the world, who cut USAID through DOGE. Because of that, Gates said, Musk "has been involved in the deaths of the world's poorest children."

The Vaccine Cartel

Gates is part of what Robert F. Kennedy Jr. refers to in his book The Real Anthony Fauci as the "vaccine cartel." He was a big cheerleader for lockdowns and forced vaccinations during the Covid-19 era. Over the years, he has invested hundreds of millions in mRNA technology through his foundation. Here are just a few examples: In 2015, the Gates Foundation poured $52 million into German biopharmaceutical CureVac; in 2016, it gave \$20 million to Moderna; and in 2019, $55 million went to Pfizer's partner

BioNTech.

Pfizer, Moderna, and BioNtech are leaders in the development and creation of technology suspected to have caused irreparable damage to people all over the globe. These companies have also received very lucrative government contracts for the mRNA Covid-19 “vaccine.”

During his conversation with the Times, Gates acknowledged that thanks to the way Covid was handled, trust in vaccines plummeted across the world, especially in the U.S. “There were all kinds of mistakes,” he said. He admitted, for instance, that it was a mistake to treat all members of the population as if they were equally vulnerable.

Nevertheless, Gates plans to supercharge his mission of jabbing the world. “We have new, life-saving vaccines and medicines, and we know how to get them to the people who need them most,” he said.

Altruism — or Experimentation?

Gates couches his philanthropic activity as altruism. “Over the next twenty years,” he said in his announcement, “the Gates Foundation will aim to save and improve as many lives as possible.”

A lot of his purported compassion is directed at poor Africans. But some believe he is doing nothing more than using Africans as experimental guinea pigs. According to Kennedy in The Real Anthony Fauci, Gates transformed “hundreds of thousands of Africans into lab rats for low-cost clinical trials of dangerous experimental drugs.” Plus, he “turned the African continent into a dumping ground for expired, dangerous, and ineffective drugs.”

DPI

Gates collaborated with governments and industry during the Covid lockdown period to ramp up digital surveillance and manipulation. And he has no intention of apologizing for it. He recently told the Times, “We need to have disease surveillance, and we need to strengthen the World Health Organization.” One of his major goals over the next 20 years is to permanently install a global “digital public infrastructure” (DPI).

As TNA reported April 2, 2024, DPI is a collaboration between Gates, the United Nations, and dozens of governments to bring about centralized digital currencies, digital IDs, and an overarching data system — fueled by artificial intelligence — and to connect it all into one big system of control and manipulation.

They unveiled DPI in 2023 under the name “50-in-5,” a reference to their ambition to have 50 governments sign on in five years. “Almost a dozen governments, including numerous corrupt kleptocracies and socialist regimes, have volunteered their populations to serve as ‘First Mover’ countries,” Alex Newman reported.

But the goal is to impose this plan on the serf population of the entire world. The UN agency behind the plan said:

All countries, regardless of income level, geography, or where they are in their digital transformation journey, can benefit from being a part of 50-in-5. Joining the campaign helps ensure countries don’t have to tackle DPI implementation alone or start from scratch.

The DPI scheme is part of the larger goal to impose the UN’s Agenda 2030 and Sustainable Development Goals. That comprehensive plan leans on the climate-change scam as an excuse to place authoritarian controls on every level of society. In 2024, Gates said of 50-in-5:

The G20 reached a groundbreaking consensus on the role of digital public infrastructure as a critical accelerator of the Sustainable Development Goals. I'm optimistic about the potential of DPI to support a safer, healthier, and more just world.

And in his recent announcement, he reaffirmed his dedication to DPI:

We'll also continue supporting digital public infrastructure, so more people have access to the financial and social services that foster inclusive economies and open, competitive markets. And we'll continue supporting new uses of artificial intelligence, which can accelerate the quality and reach of services from health to education to agriculture.

Using AI

AI is another subject near and dear to Gates' heart.

For instance, he started a company called TerraPower to boost nuclear energy, and in 2024 broke ground on a nuclear facility in Wyoming.

Support for nuclear energy is a recent sentiment among the elites, and even within the U.S. government. For decades, the Western establishment vilified this efficient, cheap, and safe source of energy. But once the globalists realized the power of AI to control, manipulate, and brainwash the masses, they began to endorse nuclear power. Last year, the Biden administration signed into law the Accelerating Deployment of Versatile, Advanced Nuclear for Clean Energy (ADVANCE) Act to boost nuclear power production in the country, a remarkable reversal on anti-nuclear power regulations.

Gates sees AI as a big part of the future he works to create. In his recent announcement, he expressed great excitement about the prospect of using AI to "educate."

The globalists have worked for nearly a century to universalize education. They view it as a conditioning tool with unprecedented capabilities.

Other projects Gates funds include genetically modified food and mosquito reduction.

But while he frames all his activity as good, his actions say differently. He was not only on the wrong side during Covid, but he's a central global player in the buildup of a technocratic global dictatorship. And now it looks like he's going all in to create a world no freedom loving person wants to live in.
