

Written by Rebecca Terrell on November 15, 2023

Congressman Steve King: Combatting Iowa CO2 Pipelines

Former congressman Steve King of Iowa has been on the front lines battling for private-property owners who face an eminent-domain land grab by private companies hoping to capitalize on government subsidies in exchange for installing wasteful carbon-capture pipelines throughout the Corn Belt.

Recently, his state's three-member Utility Board (IUB), which is weighing whether or not to approve pipeline permits, withdrew its permission for him to testify in the case. King calls it unprecedented and says he will sue.

He also points to the consensus among property owners that the IUB is planning to issue permits for the pipelines despite recent rejections by neighboring states' public boards. They are likely to do this despite opposition to the pipeline by some three-quarters of Iowans.

More information is available at Free Soil Coalition and at SteveKing.com.

The "Boondoggle" article he references in the interview is here, and the spreadsheet with supporting documentation is here.

Subscribe to the New American

Get exclusive digital access to the most informative, non-partisan truthful news source for patriotic Americans!

Discover a refreshing blend of time-honored values, principles and insightful perspectives within the pages of "The New American" magazine. Delve into a world where tradition is the foundation, and exploration knows no bounds.

From politics and finance to foreign affairs, environment, culture, and technology, we bring you an unparalleled array of topics that matter most.

What's Included?

- 24 Issues Per Year
- Optional Print Edition
- Digital Edition Access
- Exclusive Subscriber Content
- Audio provided for all articles
- Unlimited access to past issues
- Coming Soon! Ad FREE
- 60-Day money back guarantee!
- Cancel anytime.

Subscribe