Why doesn't CNN tell you this if they are not fear-mongering? Here is a headline when this Information first broke.

Remember these numbers are also inflated because they were to be able to just assume people had COVID without even testing them. And, if anyone died from any cause and tested positive, they would be marked as a COVID death. Why? Because they gained more money for it. Boom!

According to The New York Times, potentially 90 percent of those who have tested positive for COVID-19 have such insignificant amounts of the virus present in their bodies that such individuals do not need to isolate nor are they candidates for contact tracing. 97% of PCR tests could be False Positives!! That is according to Corman-Drosten Review Report (22 scientists were involved with this review of PCR Tests)
