

House Introduces Bill to Abolish Income Tax and IRS

And now, it's time to consider abolishing the federal income tax, and the noxious IRS along with it.

That, at least, is what lawmakers are increasingly coming to conclude, spurred on by much-publicized recent statements by President Trump. He has extolled tariffs as the Founding Father-approved method of government funding, and pushed to get rid of income taxes.

H.R. 25

Now, the House has introduced a bill, H.R. 25, whose titular purpose is "To promote freedom, fairness, and economic opportunity by repealing the income tax and other taxes, abolishing the Internal Revenue Service, and enacting a national sales tax to be administered primarily by the States." Sponsored by Republican Georgia Congressman Earl L. "Buddy" Carter, the bill, from what we can ascertain (the text has not yet been released), is a proverbial instance of a broken clock occasionally getting the time right.

Congressman Carter is not a particularly distinguished constitutionalist. He has a cumulative Freedom Index score of 59 percent. And his score for the most recent Congress, the 118th, is an anemic 48 percent. Yet in this instance, Carter has done the country an incalculable service by starting the legislative ball rolling on one of the most consequential issues to gain currency inside the Beltway in recent memory.

Big Government Is the Problem

To be clear, the IRS and the heavy graduated income tax we all endure are not the etiology of the disease infecting our body politic, but only the symptom. The real sickness — the one underlying not only our onerous system of federal taxation, but also our ballooning national debt and annual deficits — is a serial lack of fidelity to the U.S. Constitution. Most of our fiscal, financial, and economic woes are due to the overweening size, cost, and oppression of Big Government.

Big Government creates its own rationale for snowballing taxation and deficit spending. And it fights tooth and nail to perpetuate and aggrandize itself at the expense of the rest of us. (Witness the wailing and gnashing of teeth in Washington over Trump's efforts to lay off slothful, overpaid federal workers and to freeze lavish expenditures such as foreign aid.) As long as the mentality enabling Big courtneyk/iStock/Getty Images Plus

Written by Steve Bonta on January 31, 2025

Government defines the Overton window of political discourse, no amount of tax cuts will truly cure the problem.

But going after the IRS and the Marxist graduated income tax system is certainly a good start. Doing so in tandem with the activities of the Department of Government Efficiency is a very promising trend indeed.

Subscribe to the New American

Get exclusive digital access to the most informative, non-partisan truthful news source for patriotic Americans!

Discover a refreshing blend of time-honored values, principles and insightful perspectives within the pages of "The New American" magazine. Delve into a world where tradition is the foundation, and exploration knows no bounds.

From politics and finance to foreign affairs, environment, culture, and technology, we bring you an unparalleled array of topics that matter most.

Subscribe

What's Included?

- 24 Issues Per Year
- Optional Print Edition
- Digital Edition Access
- Exclusive Subscriber Content
- Audio provided for all articles
- Unlimited access to past issues
- Coming Soon! Ad FREE
- 60-Day money back guarantee!
- Cancel anytime.