Boomers in KY-4 Choose Israel-First Neoconservative Gallrein. Massie Out.

The Israel Lobby has purchased the 4th District congressional seat in Kentucky for retired Navy SEAL Ed Gallrein, who unseated incumbent America-First Republican Thomas Massie in yesterday's party primary.

Gallrein won not only because President Trump repeatedly attacked Massie as "disloyal," but also because Israel's megarich Amen Corner in the United States pumped more than $15 million into Gallrein's campaign.

Gallrein's main bloc of voters were older than 65 years. Voters ages 18 through 64 voted for Massie.

The Israel Lobby is openly bragging about its buying yet another American legislator, although this transaction likely won't invite worries from either party about "foreign election interference."

Results

Gallrein prevailed in the most expensive primary race in American history, largely, again, because the Israel Lobby showered Gallrein with money. Total spent: \$35 million, with $15,522,757 coming from the Lobby alone: $63,898 in donations, and $15,458,859 in independent expenditures.

Israel-First Gallrein defeated Massie 57,822 votes to 47,539, or 54.9 percent to 45.1 percent.

But those numbers don't tell the whole story.

Baby boomers and older folks — still wedded to the myth of World War II, that the United States must straddle the globe exerting its will — were the only demographic that went all-in for Gallrein.

"Ed Gallrein beat Thomas Massie in Kentucky's 4th Congressional District primary without winning a single age group under 65," Mario Nawfal noted on X, citing NBC News:

Seniors carried him across the finish line. Every other demographic voted for Massie.

That's how powerful the 65+ bloc has become in low-turnout primaries.

You don't need to win the room. You just need to own the one corner that actually shows up.

The data are as follows:

- 78.5 percent of voters ages 18-29 went for Massie;
- 64.9 percent of those ages 30-44 also voted for Massie
- 53.3 percent of voters ages 45 to 64 cast their ballot for Massie.

Only those older than that voted for Gallrein. Margin: 65 percent.

The American Israel Public Affairs Committee (AIPAC) bragged about its role in bankrolling Gallrein and the Republican who replaced former GOP Representative Marjorie Taylor Greene in Georgia. She quit Congress in January after Trump turned on her.

"Ed Gallrein's victory in KY and Clay Fuller's win in GA ensures two outspoken pro-Israel voices are positioned to fill seats previously held by outspoken detractors, Thomas Massie and Marjorie Taylor Greene," the outfit wrote:

"Kentucky Fox News Boomers just voted for a mandatory Military draft, endless pro-LGBTQ policies, a wrecked economy, and forever wars for Israel," commentator Lauren Witzke wrote on X:

The rest of America? We just learned who truly controls our country and her elections.. and it's not the voters.

A tragic day for America.

When Massie conceded the race, he joked about the district that Gallrein will represent should he win the general election in November. "I would have come out sooner," Massie quipped, "but I had to call my opponent and concede, and it took a while to find Ed Gallrein in Tel Aviv.

Trump's Help, Boebert Next?

As The New American reported yesterday, Trump embarked on a tear against Massie the day before the election, claiming that the congressman — lifetime TNA Freedom Index Score: 99 percent — "voted against Tax Cuts, the Border Wall, our Military and Law Enforcement. Actually, he voted against almost everything that is good." Massie, he wrote, is a "bum" and "the worst Republican Congressman in History."

Massie is "an obstructionist and a fool," Trump wrote, a "Third Rate Congressman" and "Weak and Pathetic RINO."

Trump has hated Massie since he voted against the One Big Beautiful Bill because it would massively increase the national debt. As well, Massie was a leader in the effort to release the Epstein Files.

Trump's next target, apparently, is America First GOP Representative Lauren Boebert.

On Truth Social, Trump declared that she, too, is an enemy. The reason: She campaigned for Massie.

"Is anyone interested in running against Weak Minded Lauren Boebert in Colorado's Fourth Congressional District?" he wrote on May 16:

You remember Lauren moved to the District when it became obvious that she couldn't win in her original Congressional District (The Third!) — A Carpetbagger, indeed! Boebert is campaigning for the Worst "Republican" Congressman in the History of our Country, Thomas Massie, of the Great Commonwealth of Kentucky, and anybody who can be that dumb deserves a good Primary fight! Even though I long ago endorsed Boebert, if the right person came along, it would be my Honor to withdraw that Endorsement, and endorse a good and proper alternative. Just let me know, or announce your Candidacy, and I will be there for you!

Unfortunately for Trump, he missed the deadline to place an Israel-First candidate on the ballot for Colorado-4’s GOP primary in June.

Before Trump targeted Massie, he went after another major supporter, Marjorie Taylor Greene of Georgia. Her crime: pushing for the release of the Epstein Files.

“I am proud and thankful to have served in the U.S. House of Representatives with my friend Thomas Massie, a giant among weak pathetic men,” Taylor Greene wrote on X:

Releasing the Epstein files was our demise.

But it was worth every single bit because now everyone knows the truth.

You are ruled by the Epstein class that cares nothing about you and your elected leaders are bought and controlled by a foreign lobby.

Tonight the future of the Republican Party was destroyed.

The Real America First Movement will rise led by the younger generations, who hate the old guard with an unquenchable passion.

Let us pray that we have a country left by the time these creatures are gone.

I am proud and thankful to have served in the U.S. House of Representatives with my friend Thomas Massie, a giant among weak pathetic men.

Trump: I’ll Be Prime Minister Of Israel

As if to signal where his true loyalty lies, Trump joked that he might become prime minister of Israel.

Written by R. Cort Kirkwood on May 20, 2026

“I’m right now at 99 percent in Israel,” Trump brayed to reporters at Joint Base Andrews today:

I could run for Prime Minister, so maybe after I do this, I’ll go to Israel, run for Prime Minister. I had a poll this morning. I’m 99 percent, so that’s good.

Maybe, but whatever Trump’s approval rating in Israel, his rating in the United States is racing to the bottom. Almost 60 percent of those polled, Real Clear Politics reports, disapprove of his job performance.
