

Written by Chris Bentley on December 30, 2009

Rachel Maddow, Black Helicopters, and the New World Order

Order

During her MSNBC program that aired on  December 18, Rachel Maddow told her guest Thomas Frank that John Birch Society members are the “New World Order black helicopter folks.”

While most of Maddow’s accusations are based on statements taken out of context, in this particular instance she has it entirely backwards.

The New American magazine, the official news publication of the Society, debunked the black helicopters rumor and other falsehoods as far back as its October 31, 1994 issue:

As for the JBS being the “New World Order folks,” Maddow apparently has confused the Society’s members with the people who actually promote it.

The following video clips and and images are just a small sampling of the mountains of documentation on this subject:

George H. W. Bush on the new world order:

Written by Chris Bentley on December 30, 2009

Henry Kissinger on the new world order:

Bill Clinton on the new world order:

Gordon Brown on the new world order:

BBC NEWS Watch One-Minute World News

Last Updated: Friday, 19 January 2007, 10:24 GMT

E-mail this to a friend | Printable version

Brown wants a 'new world order'

Chancellor Gordon Brown has spoken of the need for a "new world order" to deal with future security and environmental challenges.

He called for a "new diplomacy" to go alongside military power to defeat

Milwaukee Sentinel

TUESDAY MORNING / June 5, 1990 • EDITION

Gorbachev urges 'new world order'

Soviet president calls for US as partner to work toward goal

Full coverage: Gorbachev, well in hand, comes off as man of the moment. • Kasper heads to Copenhagen to take up with Sheinbaum & goes to allow the USSR to keep troops in East Germany. • Russia Gorbachev and

Sentinel wire services

San Francisco, Calif. — Saying the world should not slip into what the Cold War, Soviet President Mikhail S. Gorbachev called Monday for be partners in building "a new world order."

In a speech at Stanford University in the hall known of his on day visit to the U.S., Gorbachev said the idea was new: when nations "would choose their Cold War alliances and work prepare the fact that the Cold War is over," Gorbachev said. "Cold let us not wrangle over who won the Cold War."

"There can be no winners in the Cold War, just there is a winner and in any kind of talk about the Cold War being useful to some countries, I think it is just political cheating and irresponsibility," Gorbachev told the students, who interrupted his general issues with applause and gave him a standing ovation at the conclu-

In Sports: Penn State officially in Big Ten | Selig elected to Packer board

Wausau Family in fire to get $4.5 million / Page 5

The Post-Register East Idaho Final

SALT LAKE'S HOME PAPER — 99 YEARS OF SERVICE

Mt. Pleasant, Idaho, Friday, Oct. 12, 1979

Fidel Castro demands 'new world order'

By JOHN BAKEMAN Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — Fidel Castro, finger waving in the air and urging that "wiping the borders, announced a "new world order" and named the United States ruler for "aggression" and "oppression" against the world.

But the bearded Cuban president, addressing the U.N. General Assembly for the first time since he was sworn in as a at 10:30 a.m., four blocks west of the U.S. entrance, and supporters of the Cuban program were clustered in a line one block south of the entrance, at Old Street.

By 12 a.m., a half hour before the speech, and scheduled to start, a few thousand anti-Castro protesters had gathered in the park.

See other story on B-12.

Language Tools: 中国日报网

CHINA Daily 英语点津

2009年9月18日

This makes it more urgent that the international community move to wage all-out war on terrorism by, in the final analysis, establishing a new world order that can ensure lasting peace."

— China Daily

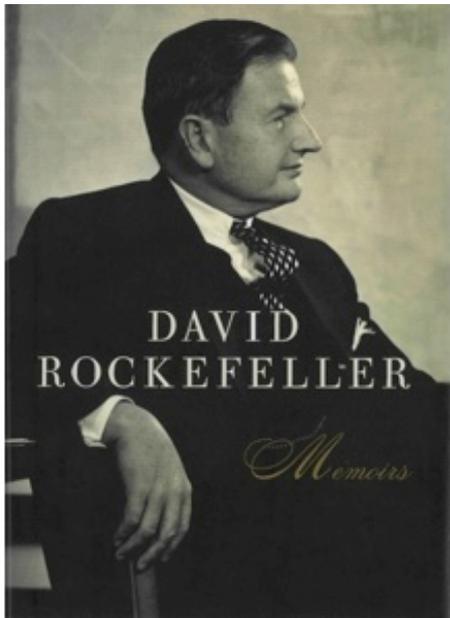

60年流行词

Partners 合作专区

Written by Chris Bentley on December 30, 2009

Of all the proponents of the New World Order, few if any have been as influential (and as capable of employing personal wealth and power in order to make it happen) as David Rockefeller.

Rockefeller, who is likely in his last few years of life, confessed in his 2002 autobiography Memoirs this lifelong goal: "For more than a century, ideological extremists at either end of the political spectrum have seized upon well-publicized incidents such as my encounter with Castro to attack the Rockefeller family for the inordinate influence they claim we wield over American political and economic institutions. Some even believe we are part of a secret cabal working against the best interests of the United States, characterizing my family and me as "internationalists" and of conspiring with others around the world to build a more integrated global political and economic structure — one world, if you will. If that is the charge, I stand guilty, and I am proud of it."

Unfortunately, the dream of a "one world" political and economic structure was a hard sell in the 20th century, given the atrocities that some of the most odious regimes in the world's history inflicted on the people they murdered with impunity.

But that never stopped David Rockefeller and his fellow elites from attempting to sell the concept with some of the most astounding statements one can find in print.

In an August 10, 1973 New York Times article, Rockefeller said the following about Chairman Mao and his "social experiment": "One is impressed immediately by the sense of national harmony.... Whatever the price of the Chinese Revolution, it has obviously succeeded ... in fostering high morale and community purpose. General social and economic progress is no less impressive.... The enormous social advances of China have benefited greatly from the singleness of ideology and purpose.... The social experiment in China under Chairman Mao's leadership is one of the most important and successful in history."

The John Birch Society and its members are not the ones calling for the New World Order. The JBS didn't make the name up, either. That would be the responsibility of those who are pushing for it.

But don't expect to find a reasoned treatment of the subject matter on the Rachel Maddow show or any other major media outlet.

It's not politically correct.

Written by Chris Bentley on December 30, 2009

This article originally appeared at JBS.org and is reprinted here with permission.

See related article:

Rachel Maddow Exposes Her Youth, Inexperience, and Political Correctness

Subscribe to the New American

Get exclusive digital access to the most informative, non-partisan truthful news source for patriotic Americans!

Discover a refreshing blend of time-honored values, principles and insightful perspectives within the pages of "The New American" magazine. Delve into a world where tradition is the foundation, and exploration knows no bounds.

From politics and finance to foreign affairs, environment, culture, and technology, we bring you an unparalleled array of topics that matter most.

Subscribe

What's Included?

- 24 Issues Per Year
- Optional Print Edition
- Digital Edition Access
- Exclusive Subscriber Content
- Audio provided for all articles
- Unlimited access to past issues
- Coming Soon! Ad FREE
- 60-Day money back guarantee!
- Cancel anytime.