Climate Skeptic: UN Loyalists Aren't Conspirators, They're Zealots

The climate change loyalists are not conspirators but rather zealots, which is far worse, argues John Robson, the founder and executive director of Climate Discussion Nexus, to The New American's Alex Newman at the United Nations' COP29. Robson, who is attending the COP29 as a journalist, argues that the reason climate alarmists are pushing renewable energies is that they truly believe if developed Western nations can set an example, the rest of the world will follow. The answer to this problem is that climate skeptics must be well informed to offer substantive reasons to environmentalists as to why the weather and climate are not getting worse, Robson said.
